FOREWORD BY THE MINISTER

Our national curriculum is the culmination of our efforts over a period of seventeen years to transform the curriculum bequeathed to us by apartheid. From the start of democracy we have built our curriculum on the values that inspired our Constitution (Act 108 of 1996). The Preamble to the Constitution states that the aims of the Constitution are to:

- heal the divisions of the past and establish a society based on democratic values, social justice and fundamental human rights;
 - improve the quality of life of all citizens and free the potential of each person;
 - lay the foundations for a democratic and open society in which government is based on the will of the people and every citizen is equally protected by law; and
- build a united and democratic South Africa able to take its rightful place as a sovereign state in the family of nations.

Education and the curriculum have an important role to play in realising these aims.

In 1997 we introduced outcomes-based education to overcome the curricular divisions of the past, but the experience of implementation prompted a review in 2000. This led to the first curriculum revision: the Revised National Curriculum Statement Grades R-9 and the National Curriculum Statement Grades 10-12 (2002).

Ongoing implementation challenges resulted in another review in 2009 and we revised the Revised National Curriculum Statement (2002) to produce this document.

From 2012 the two 2002 curricula, for Grades R-9 and Grades 10-12 respectively, are combined in a single document and will simply be known as the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12. The National Curriculum Statement for Grades R-12 builds on the previous curriculum but also updates it and aims to provide clearer specification of what is to be taught and learnt on a term-by-term basis.

The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 accordingly replaces the Subject Statements, Learning Programme Guidelines and Subject Assessment Guidelines with the

- (a) Curriculum and Assessment Policy Statements (CAPS) for all approved subjects listed in this document;
- (b) National policy pertaining to the programme and promotion requirements of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12; and
- (c) National Protocol for Assessment Grades R-12.

SECTION 1

INTRODUCTION TO THE CURRICULUM AND ASSESSMENT POLICY STATEMENTS FOR ENGLISH FIRST ADDITIONAL LANGUAGE GRADES 1-31.1 Background

The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 (NCS) stipulates policy on curriculum and assessment in the schooling sector.

To improve implementation, the National Curriculum Statement was amended, with the amendments coming into effect in January 2012. A single comprehensive Curriculum and Assessment Policy document was developed for each subject to replace Subject Statements, Learning Programme Guidelines and Subject Assessment Guidelines in Grades R-12.

1.2 Overview

- (a) The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 (January 2012) represents a policy statement for learning and teaching in South African schools and comprises the following:
- (i) Curriculum and Assessment Policy Statements for each approved school subject;
 - (ii) The policy document, National policy pertaining to the programme and promotion requirements of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12; and
 - (iii) The policy document, National Protocol for Assessment Grades R-12 (January 2012).
- (b) The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 (January 2012) replaces the two current national curricula statements, namely the
- (i) Revised National Curriculum Statement Grades R-9, Government Gazette No. 23406 of 31 May 2002, and
 - (ii) National Curriculum Statement Grades 10-12 Government Gazettes, No. 25545 of 6 October 2003 and No. 27594 of 17 May 2005.
- (c) The national curriculum statements contemplated in subparagraphs b(i) and (ii) comprise the following policy documents which will be incrementally repealed by the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 (January 2012) during the period 2012-2014:
- (i) The Learning Area/Subject Statements, Learning Programme Guidelines and Subject Assessment Guidelines for Grades R-9 and Grades 10-12;
 - (ii) The policy document, National Policy on assessment and qualifications for schools in the General Education and Training Band, promulgated in Government Notice No. 124 in Government Gazette No. 29626 of 12 February 2007;
 - (iii) The policy document, the National Senior Certificate: A qualification at Level 4 on the National Qualifications Framework (NQF), promulgated in Government Gazette No.27819 of 20 July 2005;

- (iv) The policy document, An addendum to the policy document, the National Senior Certificate: A qualification at Level 4 on the National Qualifications Framework (NQF), regarding learners with special needs, published in Government Gazette, No.29466 of 11 December 2006, is incorporated in the policy document, National policy pertaining to the programme and promotion requirements of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12; and
- (v) The policy document, An addendum to the policy document, the National Senior Certificate: A qualification at Level 4 on the National Qualifications Framework (NQF), regarding the National Protocol for Assessment (Grades R-12), promulgated in Government Notice No.1267 in Government Gazette No. 29467 of 11 December 2006.=
- (d) The policy document, National policy pertaining to the programme and promotion requirements of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12, and the sections on the Curriculum and Assessment Policy as contemplated in Chapters 2, 3 and 4 of this document constitute the norms and standards of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12. It will therefore, in terms of section 6A of the South African Schools Act, 1996 (Act No. 84 of 1996,) form the basis for the Minister of Basic Education to determine minimum outcomes and standards, as well as the processes and procedures for the assessment of learner achievement to be applicable to public and independent schools.

1.3 General aims of the South African Curriculum

- (a) The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 gives expression to the knowledge, skills and values worth learning in South African schools. This curriculum aims to ensure that children acquire and apply knowledge and skills in ways that are meaningful to their own lives. In this regard, the curriculum promotes knowledge in local contexts, while being sensitive to global imperatives.
- (b) The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 serves the purposes of:
- equipping learners, irrespective of their socio-economic background, race, gender, physical ability or intellectual ability, with the knowledge, skills and values necessary for self-fulfilment, and meaningful participation in society as citizens of a free country;
 - providing access to higher education;
 - facilitating the transition of learners from education institutions to the workplace; and
 - providing employers with a sufficient profile of a learner's competences.
- (c) The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 is based on the following principles:
- Social transformation: ensuring that the educational imbalances of the past are redressed, and that equal educational opportunities are provided for all sections of the population;
 - Active and critical learning: encouraging an active and critical approach to learning, rather than rote and uncritical learning of given truths;
 - High knowledge and high skills: the minimum standards of knowledge and skills to be achieved at each grade are specified and set high, achievable standards in all subjects;
 - Progression: content and context of each grade shows progression from simple to complex;

- Human rights, inclusivity, environmental and social justice: infusing the principles and practices of social and environmental justice and human rights as defined in the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa. The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 is sensitive to issues of diversity such as poverty, inequality, race, gender, language, age, disability and other factors;
 - Valuing indigenous knowledge systems: acknowledging the rich history and heritage of this country as important contributors to nurturing the values contained in the Constitution; and
 - Credibility, quality and efficiency: providing an education that is comparable in quality, breadth and depth to those of other countries.
- (d) The National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 aims to produce learners that are able to:
- identify and solve problems and make decisions using critical and creative thinking;
 - work effectively as individuals and with others as members of a team;
 - organise and manage themselves and their activities responsibly and effectively;
 - collect, analyse, organise and critically evaluate information;
 - communicate effectively using visual, symbolic and/or language skills in various modes;
 - use science and technology effectively and critically showing responsibility towards the environment and the health of others; and
 - demonstrate an understanding of the world as a set of related systems by recognising that problem solving contexts do not exist in isolation.
- (e) Inclusivity should become a central part of the organisation, planning and teaching at each school. This can only happen if all teachers have a sound understanding of how to recognise and address barriers to learning, and how to plan for diversity.

The key to managing inclusivity is ensuring that barriers are identified and addressed by all the relevant support structures within the school community, including teachers, District-Based Support Teams, Institutional-Level Support Teams, parents and Special Schools as Resource Centres. To address barriers in the classroom, teachers should use various curriculum differentiation strategies such as those included in the Department of Basic Education's Guidelines for Inclusive Teaching and Learning (2010).

1.4 Time Allocation

1.4.1 Foundation Phase

(a) The instructional time in the Foundation Phase is as follows:

SUBJECT	GRADE R (HOURS)	GRADES 1-2 (HOURS)	GRADE 3 (HOURS)
Home Language	10	8/7	8/7
First Additional Language		2/3	3/4
Mathematics	7	7	7
Life Skills	6	6	7
• Beginning Knowledge	(1)	(1)	(2)
• Creative Arts	(2)	(2)	(2)
• Physical Education	(2)	(2)	(2)
• Personal and Social Well-being	(1)	(1)	(1)
TOTAL	23	23	25

(b) Instructional time for Grades R, 1 and 2 is 23 hours and for Grade 3 is 25 hours.

(c) Ten hours are allocated for languages in Grades R-2 and 11 hours in Grade 3. A maximum of 8 hours and a minimum of 7 hours are allocated for Home Language and a minimum of 2 hours and a maximum of 3 hours for Additional Language in Grades 1-2. In Grade 3 a maximum of 8 hours and a minimum of 7 hours are allocated for Home Language and a minimum of 3 hours and a maximum of 4 hours for First Additional Language.

(d) In Life Skills Beginning Knowledge is allocated 1 hour in Grades R-2 and 2 hours as indicated by the hours in brackets for Grade 3.

1.4.2 Intermediate Phase

(a) The instructional time in the Intermediate Phase is as follows:

SUBJECT	HOURS
Home Language	6
First Additional Language	5
Mathematics	6
Natural Sciences and Technology	3,5
Social Sciences	3
Life Skills	4
• Creative Arts	(1,5)
• Physical Education	(1)
• Personal and Social Well-being	(1,5)
TOTAL	27,5

1.4.3 Senior Phase

(a) The instructional time in the Senior Phase is as follows:

SUBJECT	HOURS
Home Language	5
First Additional Language	4
Mathematics	4,5
Natural Sciences	3
Social Sciences	3
Technology	2
Economic Management Sciences	2
Life Orientation	2
Creative Arts	2
TOTAL	27,5

1.4.4 Grades 10-12

(a) The instructional time in Grades 10-12 is as follows:

SUBJECT	TIME ALLOCATION PER WEEK (HOURS)
Home Language	4.5
First Additional Language	4.5
Mathematics	4.5
Life Orientation	2
A minimum of any three subjects selected from Group B Annexure B, Tables B1-B8 of the policy document, National policy pertaining to the programme and promotion requirements of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 , subject to the provisos stipulated in paragraph 28 of the said policy document.	12 (3x4h)

The allocated time per week may be utilised only for the minimum required NCS subjects as specified above, and may not be used for any additional subjects added to the list of minimum subjects. Should a learner wish to offer additional subjects, additional time must be allocated for the offering of these subjects.

SECTION 2

2.1 INTRODUCTION

In the Foundation Phase, the main skills in the First Additional Language curriculum are:

Listening and speaking	Thinking and Reasoning and Language Structure and Use, which are integrated into all 4 languages skills (listening, speaking, reading and writing)
Reading and phonics
Writing and handwriting

The content (knowledge, concepts and skills) contained in the National Curriculum Statement (NCS) has been organised in the Curriculum and Assessment Policy Statement (CAPS), per term, using these headings. The Foundation Phase section of the CAPS provides teachers with:

- an Introduction containing guidelines on how to use the Foundation Phase document
- content, concepts and skills to be taught per term
- guidelines for time allocation
- requirements for the Formal Assessment Activities and suggestions for informal assessment
- lists of recommended resources per grade

2.2 ADDITIVE BILINGUALISM

Children come to school knowing their home language. They can speak it fluently, and already know several thousand words. Learning to read and write in Grade 1 builds on this foundation of oral language. Therefore, it is easier to learn to read and write in your home language.

When children start to learn an additional language in Grade 1, they need to build a strong oral foundation. They need to hear lots of simple, spoken English which they can understand from the context. Listening to the teacher read stories from large illustrated books (Big Books) is a good way of doing this as it also supports children's emergent literacy development. As children's understanding grows, they need plenty of opportunities to speak the language in simple ways. This provides the foundation for learning to read and write in Grades 2 and 3.

In South Africa, many children start using their additional language, English, as the Language of Learning and Teaching (LoLT) in Grade 4. This means that they must reach a high level of competence in English by the end of Grade 3, and they need to be able to read and write well in English. For these reasons, their progress in literacy must be accelerated in Grades 2 and 3.

Fortunately, children can transfer many literacy skills from their home language. For example, if learners are taught handwriting well in their home language, they can use this skill when writing in English. If they learn phonics in their home language, they do not need to learn sound-spelling relationships all over again in English. They only need to apply their knowledge in English and learn those sound-spelling relationships that are different in English.

The First Additional Language CAPS take advantage of learners' literacy skills in their home language. For example, activities such as Guided reading that are introduced in the Home Language CAPS in Grade 1 are introduced in the First Additional Language CAPS in Grade 2. This is what is called ‘additive bilingualism’ – developing a strong literacy foundation in the Home Language and building First Additional Language literacy onto this.

2.3 DIFFERENT LANGUAGE LEARNING CONTEXTS

In schools where children will use their additional language, English, as the LoLT from Grade 4, it is important that a substantial amount of time is devoted to learning English in the Foundation Phase. However, in schools with the same LoLT throughout the grades, this is not the case. In these schools, many children who are learning English or Afrikaans as a Home Language do not speak these languages as their mother tongue, and as much time as possible should be devoted to this task.

2.4 TIME ALLOCATION

The following time allocations for languages come into effect in 2012. For Language in the Foundation Phase time will be determined by the language context of the school. Schools can choose whether to give relatively more or less time to the Home and First Additional Languages depending on the needs of their learners. The minimum time for the Home Language and First Additional Languages is provided in brackets in the table below.

	Home Language	First Additional Language
Grade 1	8 (7) hours	3 (2) hours
Grade 2	8 (7) hours	3 (2) hours
Grade 3	8 (7) hours	4 (3) hours

The Department of Basic Education does not prescribe how to break down the time into the different components although the following suggestions are made for each grade:

Where maximum time is given to the First Additional Language

FIRST ADDITIONAL LANGUAGE
	GRADE 1	GRADE 2	GRADE 3
Listening & speaking	1 hour 30 minutes	1 hour	1 hour
Reading & Phonics	1 hour 15 minutes	1 hour 30 minutes	1 hour 30 minutes
Writing	15 minutes	30 minutes	1 hour
Language Use			30 minutes
	3 hours per week	3 hours per week	4 hours per week

Where minimum time is given to the First Additional Language

FIRST ADDITIONAL LANGUAGE
	GRADE 1	GRADE 2	GRADE 3
Listening & speaking	1 hour 30 minutes	45 minutes	1 hour
Reading & Phonics	30 minutes	45 minutes	1 hour
Writing		30 minutes	30 minutes
Language Use			30 minutes
	2 hours per week	2 hours per week	3 hours per week

2.5 ASSESSMENT

The CAPS document provides suggestions for each of the Formal Assessment Activities in the Foundation Phase Languages. Each activity is made up of a number of parts dealing with different aspects of Language.

GRADE	SUBJECT	TERM 1	TERM 2	TERM 3	TERM 4	TOTAL
1	First Additional Language	1	1	1	1	4
2	First Additional Language	1	1	2	1	5
3	First Additional Language	1	2	2	1	6

In Term 1 there is only one Formal Assessment Activity in Grades 1 – 3. In addition, suggestions are given for informal assessment that will inform daily teaching and learning but will not be formally recorded.

2.6 INTRODUCING THE FIRST ADDITIONAL LANGUAGE

When the teacher introduces the First Additional Language in Grade 1, she needs a simple way to get the idea of an ‘additional language’ across to her young learners. A good way of doing so is by means of a puppet, which can be given a name in the additional language, for example, Peter the Puppet. In the first lesson, the teacher introduces the puppet and tells the learners that Peter can’t speak their home language; he can only speak English, so they will have to speak English to Peter. Peter will then become a permanent feature of the First Additional Language class. The teacher could introduce a second puppet (e.g. Pam the Puppet) in order to demonstrate interactions in the additional language (e.g. greetings).

2.7 LISTENING AND SPEAKING

Learning an additional language is much like learning a home language except that it happens later in children’s lives. In the first year of their lives, children hear huge amounts of simple language in context, which enables them to gradually absorb the grammar and vocabulary of their home language. After a year or so, children start speaking their home language but not in full sentences. They begin by producing one or two words, which they use to express a range of meanings and purposes. They can understand much more complex language than they can express.

It is important for teachers to keep this in mind when children are learning an additional language. In Grades 1, learners need to be exposed to lots of oral language in the form of stories and classroom instructions. Listening to stories being told is an excellent way for children to acquire their additional language. The teacher needs to:

- choose a story with a simple, repetitive structure, which allows for vocabulary and grammar to be recycled (e.g. The Three Little Pigs)
- keep her language very simple, speaking slowly but naturally
- use gestures, pictures and real objects to support understanding of the story
- tell the story several times, gradually involving the children more and more, for example by joining in the refrains (e.g. He huffs and he puffs and he blows the house down)

Another way of exposing children to the additional language is through listening to stories (or non-fiction texts) read by the teacher. The teacher reads from a Big Book, a large illustrated book with enlarged print that all the learners can see as she reads. This is called ‘Shared Reading’. One of the advantages of Shared Reading is that as well as being an excellent listening activity, it also develops learners’ emergent literacy. Children learn, for example, concepts of print (e.g. that we start reading at the front of a book and end at the back; and that we read from left to right and top to bottom of a page), and they begin to recognise a few written words in the additional language (e.g. he, she). Learners should be familiar with the activity of Shared Reading since they will also be doing it in their Home Language lessons.

Another excellent way of exposing children to the additional language is by giving simple instructions that they respond to physically; for example, the teacher says, 'Come here, Thabo,' with an accompanying gesture, and he responds. This method, known as Total Physical Response, has the advantage that the teacher can see immediately whether Thabo understands or not and she can provide feedback – either 'Well done, Thabo,' or she can repeat the instruction more slowly with the gesture emphasized more strongly. Classroom language (e.g. Come to the front of the class and sit on the mat) provides many opportunities for natural ways of introducing Total Physical Response. Action rhymes, too, are an excellent way of combining language with physical activity in a way that supports both understanding and memory of the language.

The advantage of the three methods described above (listening to stories, Shared Reading and Total Physical Response) is that they all focus on learning language through listening comprehension. This takes the pressure off young learners having to speak, reduces anxiety and allows them to focus on understanding the language. However, in order to become competent users of the language, learners also have to practise speaking.

Initially, learners' spoken language will be formulaic – memorised songs, action rhymes and poems, and some formulaic language learned as chunks, for example, 'Good morning, how are you?' 'I'm fine, how are you?' But gradually, as children begin to understand the additional language, they need to start talking, initially with one or two word utterances. For example, in response to the teacher's question, 'Did you like the story,' a learner answers 'Yes' or 'No.'

At first, learners' emergent spoken language needs to be scaffolded (i.e. modelled and supported). For example, learners can begin by acting out stories the teacher has told or read to them, speaking some of the dialogue. With the teacher's help, the children can retell the story. The teacher needs to make sure that all the children get opportunities to speak in English. Because children will progress at a different pace, the teacher needs to tailor speaking opportunities (e.g. the questions she asks) to the level of the individual child. As the children move through the grades, the teacher should expect children to speak more and their utterances should become longer.

As children make progress with learning English, they also need to be introduced to more text types. In Grade 1, they will have lots of exposure to stories and will begin to recognise the structure and features of narrative text (i.e. characters are introduced, the setting is described, a problem arises and it is resolved; a narrative is usually told in the past tense). In the Grade 2 First Additional Language CAPS, oral recounts are introduced (e.g. Yesterday, we went to town. First, we went to the supermarket to buy food. Then we went to the library, etc.), and in Grade 3, written recounts are included. The recount is an important text type because it provides a bridge between spoken and written language. We often use oral recounts (e.g. telling people about what we have done), but we also write them down. In Grade 3, learners are also introduced orally to procedural text (i.e. instructions such as recipes) and information reports (e.g. Elephants are large animals. They live in herds, etc.). Examples of these text types are provided in Section 4 at the end of this document, together with a description of their structure and features.

Daily and once/twice weekly focused listening/speaking activities built around themes

A substantial amount of time needs to be devoted to Listening and Speaking in Grade 1. This is reduced in Grades 2 and 3 when more reading and writing is introduced in the First Additional Language. Focused attention needs to be given to Listening and Speaking throughout the Foundation Phase.

In the First Additional Language CAPS, Listening and Speaking are organised as follows:

- a list of activities to be covered on a daily basis over the period of a week. The selection and number of activities to be covered each day will depend on the teacher and the time she has available; this will vary according to whether she is using the minimum or maximum time for First Additional Language.
- a focused activity, 'listening to stories told and read', which is taught once or twice a week, depending on the Grade and the amount of time available.

These activities are organised around themes. It is recommended that the teacher select four themes per term, possibly less where the minimum time is used for the First Additional Language. The teacher needs to select themes that lend themselves to teaching an additional language. The themes should be very familiar to learners, preferably already taught in the Home Language, and offer lots of opportunities for teaching language in context (e.g. they need to provide opportunities for demonstration and use of things that are physically present in the classroom). Some themes are given as examples, but these are merely suggestions; they are not to be seen as prescriptions.

The reason for using themes is to make it possible to constantly recycle vocabulary and language structures in meaningful contexts. For example, words related to the body (face, eyes, ears, nose, mouth, arms, legs, feet) and the structures in which they are situated (Point to your ____./This is my ____./These are my ____.) first of all need to be heard repeatedly in context; learners then need opportunities to use them. As learners move into Grades 2 and 3, they will also need opportunities to read and write them. Only if vocabulary and structures are constantly recycled, will learners be able to remember and use them.

2.8 READING AND WRITING

For the reasons given above, there is a strong focus on developing oral language in Grades R and 1, when children will be learning to read and write in their Home Language. However, in Grades 2 and 3 focus should be given to developing literacy in the First Additional Language. This is very important for children who will be using English as the LoLT in Grade 4. They will need to be able to read and write in their other subjects, and use English textbooks in the Intermediate Phase. This will require high levels of literacy, and especially a wide vocabulary, in English.

Reading and writing also contribute to learners' language development in English. Reading gives learners more exposure to their additional language. We know from research that children's vocabulary development is heavily dependent on the amount of reading they do. Writing is important because it forces learners to think about grammar and spelling. This encourages learners to process the language, speeds up language acquisition and increases accuracy.

Thus more time is devoted to reading and writing activities in the First Additional Language CAPS for Grades 2 and 3. The activities for Reading and Writing are as follows:

2.8.1 Exposure to environmental print

From their earliest years, South African children are exposed to a great deal of environmental print in English, for example in signage (traffic signs, shop signs, etc.) and packaging. Teachers can use this as a starting point for children's emergent literacy in their additional language, for example, by bringing familiar packages or advertisements to class and seeing if the learners can recognise brand names. From the 3rd term of Grade 1, when learners have established some literacy in their Home Language, the teacher can start labelling objects in the classroom in both the Home Language and English. These activities support incidental learning; they are not focused literacy activities and should not be given too much time.

2.8.2 Shared Reading

Shared Reading is introduced in Grade R and continues throughout the Foundation Phase. This activity is an important focus for language and literacy development. The purpose of Shared Reading in Grade 1 is to give learners exposure to their additional language in a meaningful, supportive context. It also develops learners' emergent literacy in their additional language. They develop concepts of print and start to recognise a few written words in English. At this level, the teacher should:

- Choose a very simple enlarged text (e.g. a Big Book) with a limited amount of text and plenty of good illustrations. The story should have a clear, simple structure (e.g. The Three Little Pigs). It is helpful if the language is repetitive and predictive (e.g. Where's Spot? He's in the kitchen. Where's Spot? He's in the garden. etc.) The texts should very gradually increase in complexity as the year progresses.
- Talk about the pictures with the learners so that they understand the vocabulary. Ask questions in their home language. Help them to link the story to their lives.
- Read the text several times using her finger or a 'pointer' to enable learners to follow her progress through the text
- Ask questions about the story
- Gradually involve learners in 'reading' the story

As learners move into Grades 2 and 3 the texts should become more challenging. The teacher models fluent reading and uses the text to develop vocabulary, comprehension, decoding skills, understanding of text structure, grammar and punctuation.

2.8.3 Group Guided Reading

In Grade 2, learners begin a new activity in their additional language: Group Guided Reading. However, they will be familiar with the activity since they will have been doing it in their home language from the beginning of Grade 1. For this activity, the teacher needs a set of readers graded according to level of difficulty. The teacher should organise the learners in ability groups of 6 –10 children and then should select a reader appropriate for their level. The teacher works with each group once a week for 15 minutes while the other groups are involved in Paired or Independent Reading or doing activities related to the text, for example, simple writing activities such as completing sentences or putting sentences in the right order. The purpose of Guided Reading is for the teacher to give learners individual attention in order to develop their comprehension and word attack skills in their additional language.

Instructions for forming ability groups

In order to group learners, you will need to observe them reading from your class readers. Choose a reader which you think the child will be able to read, but not one that is too easy – there should be a few challenges for the reader. If the child is able to read it fluently, with appropriate expression, then this text is at his/her reading level. If the child struggles, choose an easier one until you find the right level. Once you have assessed all the learners, you can group them according to ability.

Steps in a Group Guided Reading LessonI. Select an appropriate text:

Graded readers will mostly be used for group reading. They should be at a lower level than the texts used for Shared Reading. Read through the text beforehand and note any vocabulary or grammar that may be challenging for the children. These may provide the teacher with a teaching focus.

II. Introduction:

Introduce the type of book (e.g. fiction or non-fiction) and the topic. Help the children to link the topic to their own life experiences. Keep this ‘talk’ focused and just enough for the children to read successfully (2–3 minutes).

III. Talk about the pictures

Use the pictures to introduce the learners to the topic and talk about any new vocabulary. Again, try to keep this focused and brief. (2–3 minutes)

IV. First Reading:

Children read the text individually. The teacher observes the children’s reading behaviours and may select an additional teaching focus based on these observations. The teacher moves from child to child and hears each read a small section of the text aloud. The teacher prompts the children at this stage by saying for example:

- What do you expect to read in this book?
- Does that make sense to you?
- Well done! You corrected yourself. That makes sense.
- What would sound right in this sentence?
- Look at the illustration.
- It could be but look at the first letter again.

Initially you will probably have to ask these questions in the learners’ home language. However, as soon as possible start asking the questions in English. The learners should be very familiar with the questions since they have been doing this activity in their home language since the beginning of Grade 1.

V. Comprehension

Ask the learners questions about the text to ensure comprehension.

VI. Second and subsequent readings

On subsequent days children re-read the text either in pairs or alone. The prime focus here is to develop fluency and provide opportunities to use the text for the development of vocabulary, grammar and deeper comprehension of the text. Repeated reading supports the development of fluency in the additional language.

Teachers may be unfamiliar with using Guided Reading especially in the First Additional Language class. Therefore, they can introduce the method gradually. Once they become confident about using it in the Home Language, they can then start using it in First Additional Language. In the meantime, teachers can do whole class reading where all the learners have a copy of the same text and each child takes a turn to read. Teachers should still observe individual children’s reading behaviour and help them to develop comprehension and word attack skills.

Also there is not as much time for Guided Reading in the First Additional Language CAPS as there is in the Home Language CAPS. Teachers who are using the maximum time for First Additional Language will be able to work with each small group once a week for 15 minutes. However, those who are using the minimum time for First Additional Language will not be able to do so. They will have to do whole class reading instead of Guided Reading.

2.8.4 Paired and Independent Reading

Paired and Independent Reading provides a way of giving children reading practice and encouraging reading for enjoyment. In paired reading, two children read together or take turns to read.

Learners should use this time to do two things: 1) re-read the reader from the Group Guided Reading Session until they can read it fluently 2) read for pleasure from books in the reading corner/class library. The text should be at a lower level than that used for Shared and Group Guided Reading.

Providing opportunities for children to read books on their own also develops fluency, provided that the books are easy enough for the children to read without help. Short, simple books with predictable text and colourful illustrations are ideal. Some teachers like to give children individual reading to do at home – to reread the group reading book or read simple, ‘fun’ books. This extra reading practice, done on a regular basis every day, plays an important role in learning to read.

2.8.5 Phonics

The first stage of learning to decode written language is oral – learning to isolate the different sounds of the language (phonemic awareness). The learner then has to relate the sounds to the letters that represent them (e.g. ‘t’, ‘o’, ‘p’ or ‘sh’) and then blend letters together to form words (e.g. ‘top’, ‘shop’) (phonics). The learner has to understand the words (comprehension) and encounter them so often in print that he/she recognises them automatically (automaticity). Finally, the learner has to be able to read the words in sentences quickly with comprehension (fluency). However, these elements of learning to read do not happen in a step by step sequence. For example, children learn to recognise and understand whole words from environmental print and Shared Reading when they are still very young. Nevertheless, a systematic phonics programme is important in learning to read in one’s home language, alongside reading, writing, and listening to stories being read.

When children begin to read and write in their additional language, they already know how to decode in their home language. They already understand concepts of print and have considerable prior knowledge of sound-spelling relationships. What they need in their First Additional Language phonics class is practice in applying this knowledge to learning to decode text in English (e.g. blending known sounds to make words). Children also need to learn where sound-spelling relationships are different in their home and additional languages. For example, ‘th’ in English represents two different sounds, which are different to the sound which ‘th’ represents in African languages (e.g. thank, that, thatha). English vowels are particularly challenging for African language speakers, and this is made more difficult by the variety of ways in which these vowels are spelt (e.g. see, sea, key, me).

It is important that in Grade and 1, children develop a strong oral foundation in their additional language. Otherwise, they will not understand the words they are decoding in English in Grade 2 and the work they do in phonics will simply become ‘barking at print’. Children will also benefit from learning to identify the sounds of English (phonemic awareness) in Grade 1. This is best achieved through songs and rhymes which help them to isolate the sounds (e.g. I’m going to the zoo, zoo, zoo; You can come too, too, too).

It is important for the teacher to keep in mind that her role is to build awareness over time of sound-spelling relationships in the additional language, not to drill for complete accuracy. Phonics should take the form of short, regular activities throughout the Foundation Phase.

Daily/weekly phonics activities

Specific attention should be given to phonics throughout the Foundation Phase. A programme is provided in the First Additional Language CAPS. In Grade 1, the focus is on developing phonemic awareness. In Grades 2 and 3, a phonics programme is provided which builds on what learners have already done in their home language. Since there is a limited time available for teaching phonics, teachers are encouraged to integrate phonics teaching into Listening, Speaking and Shared Reading activities.

2.8.6 Word recognition

English has a large number of words that are not spelt as they sound (e.g. one, two). It is therefore very difficult, and sometimes impossible, to decode them phonetically. Children learn to recognise sight words (or 'look and say' words) by seeing them repeatedly. Words that appear frequently in texts (high frequency words) can be learned in this way. The more children read in their additional language, the more sight words they will acquire.

2.8.7 Comprehension

Children are often able to decode in their additional language, but are unable to understand what they read. This results in what some people call 'barking at print'. The main reason that children are unable to comprehend text is that their language skills are weak. They lack sufficient vocabulary and grammar to make sense of what they read. Therefore, the teacher must build their vocabulary and grammar by exposing them to plenty of English at the right level. Strategies such as building a 'word wall' in the classroom and encouraging learners to keep personal dictionaries (or vocabulary books) are also helpful. Getting children to read more in their additional language is perhaps the best way of improving their vocabulary. However, this strategy will only work if the texts are at a suitable level for independent reading.

Another important way of developing children's reading comprehension is by asking questions that enable learners to engage with the text. The teacher should begin with simple questions, e.g. 'Who?' (e.g. Who ate the porridge?) 'What?' (e.g. What did Goldilocks eat?) and 'Where?' (e.g. Where did Goldilocks go to sleep?) Gradually, as learners get used to question forms and develop the language necessary to answer them, more complex questions can be asked. By the time learners are in Grade 3, they should be able to answer 'Why ...?' questions (e.g. 'Why didn't Goldilocks eat Daddy Bear's porridge?').

For further information on how to teach Shared Reading, Guided Reading, Paired and Independent Reading, Phonics, word recognition and comprehension, refer to the Department of Basic Education's handbook, 'Teaching Reading in the Early Grades' (2008), which can be downloaded from www.education.gov.za

2.8.8 Writing

Children learn the skills of letter formation and handwriting in their Home Language. They can apply this knowledge when they begin to write in their First Additional Language in the third term of Grade 1. The writing activities in Grade 1 are very simple since learners need to focus on writing in their Home Language.

In Grade 2, writing in the First Additional Language receives more focus. Writing is guided; for example, learners write using sentence frames such as 'I like _____./I don't like _____.' In Grade 3, writing becomes more challenging. With support, learners are expected to write a simple set of instructions and a personal recount. Together with the teacher (Shared Writing), they write a simple story.

Many writing skills are transferred from the Home Language. For example, children learn how to write a text such as a recount first in their Home Language, and they draw on this knowledge when, at a later stage, they learn to write a recount in their First Additional Language. Similarly, children learn how to draft, write, edit and publish their work (the writing process) in their Home Language, and they then apply these skills when writing in the First Additional Language.

2.8.9 Language structure and use

A good knowledge of vocabulary and grammar provides the foundation for skills development (listening, speaking, reading and writing) in the First Additional Language. In Grade 1, vocabulary and grammar are learned incidentally through exposure to the spoken language. In Grades 2 and 3, learners also acquire vocabulary and grammar through reading English. In Grade 3, there are specific activities focused on Language Use.

Vocabulary targets are set for each grade and a list of high frequency words in English is provided in Section 3 of this document. It is essential for learners to reach these targets if they are going to be capable of using English as the LoLT in Grade 4. Teachers need strategies for developing learners' vocabulary, for example:

- word walls and labels in the classroom
- vocabulary games , e.g. word quizzes
- independent reading
- keeping personal dictionaries (vocabulary books)
- using children's illustrated dictionaries (both monolingual and bilingual)

OVERVIEW OF THE LANGUAGE SKILLS TO BE TAUGHT IN THE FIRST ADDITIONAL LANGUAGE (FAL) GRADES 1–3

GRADE 1

- Develops phonemic awareness in the FAL through rhymes and songs (e.g. 'The cat in a hat, His name is Pat')
- Identifies some rhyming words
- Recognises initial sounds in familiar words (e.g. 'p' in 'Pat')
- Segments oral sentences into individual words by clapping on each word
- Claps out the syllables in familiar words
- Distinguishes the first sound (onset) from the remaining part of a syllable (rime) in simple words (e.g. c-at, m-at, f-at)
- Recognises plurals ('s' and 'es') aurally

- Phonemic awareness
- Distinguishes aurally between sounds that are often confused (e.g. 'a' and 'e', 'ee' and 'i')
- Phonics
- Identifies letter-sound relationships of single letters starting with those that are the same in the HL and FAL
- Identifies letter-sound relationships that are different from those in the HL
- Builds up and breaks down 3-letter words using sounds learnt. (e.g. p-e-n, p-en, pen)
- Recognises common endings in words (e.g. 'ed', 'ing', 'y' and 's')
- Groups common words into word families (e.g. bin, pin, tin)
- Recognises common consonant digraphs such as sh, ch and th at the beginning and end of words
- Builds up and breaks down simple words beginning with some common consonant blends (e.g. fl-at, sl-ip, cl-ap, pl-um; br-im, cr-op, dr-ip, gr-ab, tr-ip)
- Recognises at least 3 vowel digraphs (e.g. 'oo' as in boot, 'ee' as in feet)

GRADE 3

- Identifies letter-sound relationships of all single letters in HL and FAL and is aware of any differences
- Recognises consonant digraphs (sh-, -sh, ch-, -ch, th-, -th and wh-) at the beginning and end of words
- Recognises at least 10 vowel digraphs (e.g. 'oa' as in boat, 'ar' as in far, 'er' as in her, 'ir' as in bird, 'or' as in short, 'ur' as in hurt)
- Recognises silent 'e' in words (e.g. cake, time)
- Uses consonant blends to build up and break down words (e.g. ri-ng, i-nk,)
- Recognises known rhyming words, (e.g. fly, sky,)
- Distinguishes between long and short vowel sounds e.g. ('boot' and 'book')
- Distinguishes between onset and rime in more complex syllables (e.g. 'dr-eam', 'scr-eam')
- Recognises more complex word families (e.g. 'catch', 'match')
- Recognises and uses some suffixes (e.g. '-es', '-ies', '-ly', '-ing', '-ed')
- Builds and sounds out words using sounds learnt

GRADE 1 FIRST ADDITIONAL LANGUAGE ENGLISH

REQUIREMENTS PER TERM

LISTENING AND SPEAKING (ORAL)

SUGGESTED CONTACT TIME

1 hour 30 minutes per week

CONTENT/CONCEPTS/SKILLS

Weeks 1–5

Teachers should select two themes that will enable them to introduce and recycle vocabulary, and cover the activities listed below.

Note that the suggested themes/topics are simply suggestions. Teachers should choose their own appropriate themes depending on their context and the resources available. They should make sure that they have the necessary Big Books/posters, rhymes, songs, games and real objects for the theme they have chosen.

They should try to cover all the activities, more than once if possible. They should assess their learners using the Informal Assessment Activities recommended for Weeks 1–5.

Weeks 6–10

Teachers should select two new themes that will allow them to build on what they did in the first five weeks. The themes should allow the teacher to introduce new vocabulary and consolidate vocabulary already taught. They should allow the teacher to constantly recycle simple, basic language structures as she communicates with the learners in the First Additional Language.

Teachers should try to cover all the activities, more than once if possible. They should assess their learners using the Informal Assessment Activities recommended for Weeks 6–10. The teachers should carry out the Formal Assessment Activity at the end of term.

Daily activities (1 hour per week)

One or more of the following activities every day:

- Begins to develop an oral (listening and speaking) vocabulary using themes or topics such as 'My Clothes'
- Responds to simple greetings and farewells, using phrases, for example, 'Good morning.' 'How are you?' 'I'm fine'.
- Makes simple requests, for example, 'May I go to the toilet?'
- Points to objects in the classroom or in a picture in response to teacher's instructions, for example, 'Show me the girl in the red dress.'
- Names some objects in a picture or in the classroom in response to teacher's questions, for example, 'What is that? A hat.'
- Responds physically to simple oral instructions, for example, 'Take off your jersey.'
- Responds to simple questions, for example, 'What colour is the jersey? Red.'
- Understands and begins to use some simple language structures in context, for example, plural forms of countable nouns such as 'one sock, two socks'
- Sings simple songs and does actions with guidance, for example, 'This is the way I put on my shirt, put on my shirt, put on my shirt.'
- Joins in action rhymes and songs, doing the actions, for example, 'Here are Gogo's glasses, Here is Gogo's hat'
- Plays language games, for example, Hunt the Hat – Teacher hides the hat in the classroom and then asks questions using plenty of actions. Where is the hat? Is it under the desk? Is it in the cupboard? etc.

Focussed listening and speaking activities (15 minutes x 2 per week)Listens to stories told and read

Twice a week, the teacher reads or tells a story. Stories that are told can be dramatised using gestures and props to support meaning. Stories that are read should be from a Big Book or illustrated poster where all the children can see the pictures

- Listens to short stories or non-fiction texts told or read from a Big Book or illustrated poster, for example, The Old Man and his Hat with enjoyment and joins in choruses at the appropriate time
- Understands and responds to simple questions, for example, 'What colour is the hat?' and instructions, for example, 'Show me the old man's hat.'
- Names some of the things in the picture in response to questions from the teacher, for example, 'Who is this?' 'The old man'.

Development of concepts, vocabulary and language structures

Through taking part in the above activities:

- continues to build oral vocabulary, including conceptual vocabulary, for example, colour – blue, red, green
- begins to develop understanding and ability to use simple language structures in the context of meaningful spoken language, for example, imperatives such as 'Take off your jersey'; present progressive tense such as 'I am wearing a jersey'; possessive pronouns such as 'my jersey'; plural forms of countable nouns such as 'sock/socks'

ASSESSMENTSuggestions for Informal Assessment Activities:*Listening and Speaking: (oral and/or practical)*Weeks 1–5

- Responds physically to simple oral instructions
- Points to objects in the classroom or in a picture in response to teacher's instructions

Weeks 6–10

- Names some objects in a picture or in the classroom
- Responds to simple questions

Formal Assessment Activity 1:Listening and Speaking (oral and/ or practical)

- Responds to simple questions
- Demonstrates understanding of some basic oral vocabulary by pointing to objects in the classroom or a picture in response to instructions from the teacher, for example, 'Show me the red/yellow/blue/green jersey/socks/shirt' etc.

Teachers should choose their own appropriate themes depending on their context and the resources available. They should make sure that they have the necessary Big Books/posters, rhymes, songs, games and real objects for the theme they have chosen.

Teachers should try to cover as many of the activities as possible in the time available. They should introduce a new activity – listening to and giving a recount. The teacher should model this by first giving a recount herself, (e.g. of what she did over the weekend). She should then support the learners to give their own recount. She should provide some structuring words to help the learners, for example, ‘Last weekend I ... then I ...next I ... After that I ...’ She should also help them with the simple past tense. The learners will practise listening to and giving recounts throughout the year. This will give them an opportunity to use the past tense and time connectors (first, next, then) in context. For further guidance see Section 4 at the end of this document.

The teacher should assess the learners using the Informal Assessment Activities recommended for Weeks 1–5.

Weeks 6–10

Teachers select two new themes that will allow them to build on what they did in the first five weeks. The themes should allow them to introduce new vocabulary and consolidate vocabulary already taught. The themes should allow the teacher to constantly recycle simple, basic language structures as she communicates with the learners in the First Additional Language.

Teachers should make sure that they cover all the activities, more than once if possible. They should assess the learners using the Informal Assessment Activities recommended for Weeks 6–10. The teachers should carry out the Formal Assessment Activity at the end of term.

Daily activities (30 minutes per week)

The activities vary in length. The teacher could do one longer activity or two or three short ones per week.

- Continues to develop an oral (listening and speaking) vocabulary using themes or topics such as ‘Feelings’
- Follows a short sequence of instructions, for example, ‘Draw a happy face. Now draw a sad face.’
- Gives simple instructions, for example, ‘Draw a happy face.’
- Understands and responds to simple questions such as ‘Which ...?’ ‘Whose ...?’ (Whose book is this? Which story do you want?)
- Makes simple requests and statements, for example, ‘I feel thirsty. May I have a glass of water?’
- Identifies an object from a simple oral description, for example, ‘The girl is sad. She is crying.’ Learners must match this description with the correct picture.
- Talks about objects in a picture in response to teacher’s instructions, for example, ‘What can you see in the picture?’ ‘Tell me what you can see in the picture.’
- Listens to a simple recount, for example, the teacher telling what she did last weekend
- With help from the teacher, gives a simple recount, for example, tells what he/she did last weekend
- Memorises and performs simple poems, actions rhymes and songs, for example, If you’re happy and you know it, clap your hands!
- Plays language games, for example, guesses how someone is feeling from their expression and gestures

Focussed listening and speaking activities (minimum 15 minutes x 1 per week, maximum 15 minutes x 2 per week)

Listens to stories told and read (Shared Reading)

Once or twice a week, depending on the time available, the teacher tells or reads a story (or a recount of events). Stories that are told can be dramatised using gestures and props to support meaning. Stories that are read should be from a Big Book or illustrated poster where all the children can see the pictures.

- Listens to short stories, recounts or non-fiction texts told or read from a Big Book or illustrated poster, for example, The Happy Duck with enjoyment and joins in choruses at the appropriate time
- Understands and responds to instructions, for example, 'Show me the Happy Duck swimming in the dam.'
- Answers simple literal questions about a story with short answers, for example, 'Where does the Happy Duck swim? What does the Happy Duck like to eat?'
- Names some of the things in the picture in response to questions from the teacher, for example, 'What is this?' 'A fish.'
- Acts out the story, using some of the dialogue

Development of concepts, vocabulary and language structures

Through taking part in the above activities:

- continues to build oral vocabulary, including conceptual vocabulary, for example, expressing feelings
- begins to develop understanding and ability to use simple language structures in the context of meaningful spoken language, for example, understands and begins to use the past tense such as 'I visited'; time connectors such as 'first', 'next', 'then'

ASSESSMENT

Suggestions for Informal Assessment Activities:

Listening and Speaking: (oral and/or practical)

Weeks 1–5

- Identifies a picture from a simple oral description, for example, 'The boy is happy, he is smiling.'
- Listens to a simple recount and answers simple questions about it, for example, 'What did Mandla do first? What did he do next? etc.'

Weeks 6–10

- Follows a sequence of instructions, for example, 'Draw a happy face. Now draw a sad face. Lastly, draw an angry face.'
- Gives a simple oral recount: On Sunday, I got up at 8 o'clock. I washed. Next I put on my clothes. Then I went to church.

Suggested Formal Assessment Activity 1:

Listening and Speaking (oral and/ or practical)

- Listens to a simple recount and answers simple questions about it, for example, 'What did the old woman do first? What did she do next? etc.'
- Demonstrates understanding of some basic oral vocabulary by pointing to people in a picture or doing actions in response to instructions from the teacher, for example, Pretend to be sad/happy/angry/tired, etc. Point to the picture of the sad/happy/angry/tired girl etc.

TERM 1
READING AND PHONICS	SUGGESTED CONTACT TIME
	Minimum time: 45 minutes per week Maximum time: 1 hour 30 minutes per week
CONTENT/CONCEPTS/SKILLS
Phonemic awareness and phonics (15 minutes per week)
Teachers revise the single letter sounds, beginning with the letter-sound relationships that are the same in the Home Language and which are important in English. They build short, familiar words using the sounds learners already know in their Home Language. They gradually introduce sound-spelling relationships that are different in Home and Additional Languages (e.g. icici/cat in isiXhosa and English). These activities should be short (5–10 minutes); they can also be integrated in the Listening and Speaking and Reading activities.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Distinguishes aurally between sounds that are often confused (e.g. 'a' and 'e', 'b' and 'p') • Identifies letter-sound relationships of most single letters (e.g. a, b, c, d, e, f, g, h, i, l, m, n, o, p, r, s, t, v, w, y) • Builds up and breaks down 3-letter words using sounds learnt. (e.g. p-e-n, p-en, pen; t-e-n, t-en, ten)
Shared Reading (time has been allocated under Listening and Speaking)
Shared Reading is both a reading and a listening activity; it also involves speaking because learners talk about the text with their teacher. In Grade 2, Shared Reading will continue, but as part of Listening and Speaking.
Group Guided Reading (minimum 30 minutes and maximum 1 hour 15 minutes per week)
Teachers should introduce Group Guided Reading this term. Teachers using the maximum time for First Additional Language should divide their class into 5 same-ability reading groups and work with one group each day for 15 minutes. While the teacher is working with this group the other groups will read around the group or do paired reading, using simple familiar texts or activities related to the text. The books should be very simple with repetition of structures and vocabulary and pictures to support the text. Learners have done Guided Reading in their Home Language from the beginning of Grade 1, so they should be familiar with the approach.
Teachers using the minimum time for First Additional Language where there is only 30 minutes available should do a whole class guided reading activity twice a week.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reads aloud from own book in a guided reading group with the teacher. The whole group reads the same story or non-fiction text with the teacher • Uses the reading strategies taught in the Home Language to make sense and monitor self when reading (phonics, context clues, structural analysis, sight words) • Reads with increasing fluency and expression • Shows an understanding of punctuation when reading aloud • Begins to build a sight vocabulary from the guided, shared and independent reading
Independent reading (in learners' free time at school and at home)
Learners should be encouraged do independent reading in their First Additional Language when they have spare time in class (e.g. when they have finished an activity ahead of time) and at home (e.g. for homework). It is important that every opportunity in class is used to develop their reading.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reads own and others' writing • Reads independently books read in Guided Reading sessions and simple caption books and picture story books in the First Additional Language from the classroom reading corner • Uses children's picture dictionaries (monolingual and bilingual) to find out the meaning of unknown words

Suggestions for Informal Assessment Activities:

Listening and Speaking: (oral and/or practical)

Weeks 1–5

- Answers simple literal questions about a story/text
- Retells the story/summarises the text orally (three or four sentences)

Weeks 6–10

- Answers some simple questions, for example, 'What sport do you like best?'
- Identifies 3 pictures from simple oral descriptions, for example, The man is playing soccer/The man is playing tennis/The man is playing cricket

Suggested Formal Assessment Activity 3:

Listening and Speaking (oral and/ or practical)

- Listens to a simple recount and answers simple questions about it, for example, 'Which team scored the first goal? Which team scored the second goal? Which team scored the third goal? Which team won?'
- Demonstrates understanding of some basic oral vocabulary by pointing to objects in the classroom or in a picture or doing actions in response to instructions from the teacher, for example, 'Show me tennis racket/cricket bat/soccer ball, etc.'

Suggested Formal Assessment Activity 4:

Listening and Speaking (oral and/ or practical)

WRITING

SUGGESTED CONTACT TIME

30 minutes per week

CONTENT/CONCEPTS/SKILLS

Writing Activities (2 or 3 times a week)

The teacher should try to cover as many as possible of the following in the time available:

- Uses handwriting skills taught in Home Language
- Writes a caption for a picture
- Completes sentences by filling in missing words
- Writes sentences using words containing the phonic sounds and common sight words already taught
- Writes sentences using a frame, for example, I like _____. I do not like _____.
- Writes familiar words and sentences from dictation
- Writes some short, simple texts already taught in the Home Language, for example, a message on a get well card
- Uses some nouns and pronouns (I, you, he, she, it, etc.) in writing
- Spells words correctly from memory, for example, went, play, car, or using phonic knowledge, for example, net, pet, lip, sip, tip
- Uses a children's dictionary where necessary
- Uses punctuation already taught in the Home Language (capital letters and full stops)
- Builds own word bank and personal dictionary

ASSESSMENT

Suggested Formal Assessment Activity 3:Writing: (written)

- Writes a caption for a picture, for example, The cow is eating grass.
- Writes a sentence using a frame, for example, I like _____. I do not like _____.

Suggested Formal Assessment Activity 4:Writing: (written)

- Writes a sentence from dictation; punctuates the sentence
- Writes and illustrates a get well card

Teachers should try to cover all the activities, more than once if possible. Teachers should assess the learners using the Informal Assessment Activities recommended for Weeks 6–10. They should carry out the Formal Assessment Activity at the end of term. Daily activities (30 minutes per week) The activities vary in length. The teacher could do one longer activity or two or three short activities. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Continues to develop an oral (listening and speaking) vocabulary using themes or topics such as ‘Seasons’ • Follows a short sequence of instructions, for example, ‘Come and sit at the front of the classroom’. • Gives simple instructions, for example, ‘Clap your hands.’ • Understands and responds to simple questions such as ‘Which ...?’ ‘Whose ...?’ (Which season do you like best? Summer.) • Makes simple requests and statements, for example, ‘Can I pack up my books?’ • Identifies an object from a simple oral description, for example, ‘It is summer. The sun is shining. The flowers are in bloom. The children are wearing shorts and sandals.’ Learners must match this description with the correct picture. • Talks about objects in a picture in response to teacher’s instructions (What can you see in the picture? Tell me what you can see in the picture.) • Listens to a simple recount, for example, the teacher telling about what she did on a shopping trip • With help from the teacher, gives a simple recount, for example, learners tell the teacher about something they did • Memorises and performs simple poems, actions rhymes and songs, for example, The summer sun is shining • Plays language games, for example, I spy with my little eye something beginning with Focussed listening and speaking activities (Minimum 15 minutes x 1, maximum 15 minutes x 2 per week) Listens to stories told and read (Shared Reading) Once or twice a week, depending on the time available, the teacher tells or reads a story (or a recount of events). - Answers simple literal questions about the text with short answers, for example, 'What happens to the trees in winter?'
- Names some of the things in the picture in response to questions from the teacher, for example, 'What is this?' 'Snow.'
- If it is a story, acts it out using some of the dialogue
- With help from the teacher, retells the story or gives a simple summary of the text

Development of concepts, vocabulary and language structures

Through taking part in the above activities:

- continues to build oral vocabulary, including conceptual vocabulary, for example, change/cycles – the seasons
- begins to develop understanding and ability to use simple language structures in the context of meaningful spoken language, for example, understands and begins to use the verb to be: It is summer; a greater range of adjectives: cool, dry and adverbs: softly

ASSESSMENT

Suggestions for Informal Assessment Activities:

Listening and Speaking: (oral and/or practical)

Weeks 1–5

- Answers simple literal questions about a story/text
- Retells the story/summarises the text orally (three or four sentences)

Weeks 6–10

- Answers some simple questions, for example, 'What season do you like best?'
- Identifies three pictures from simple oral descriptions, for example, 'It is summer. The sun is shining. /It is winter. There are no leaves on the trees. /It is spring. The bird is making its nest.'

Suggested Formal Assessment Activity 5:

Listening and Speaking (oral and/ or practical)

- Listens to a simple recount, for example My summer holidays, and answers simple questions about it such as Where did Thandi go for her summer holidays? What did she do when she got there? What did she do next? etc.
- Using a frame, gives a simple recount in 3 or 4 sentences
- Demonstrates understanding of some basic oral vocabulary by pointing to objects in the classroom or in a picture or doing actions in response to instructions from the teacher, for example, 'Show me a tennis racket/cricket bat/soccer ball, etc.'
- Understands at least 500 words if minimum time for First Additional Language is being used, and up to 1,000 words where the maximum time for First Additional Language is being used (use the word list in Section 3 for guidance)

RECOMMENDED TEXTS/RESOURCES FOR THE YEARLISTENING AND SPEAKING

- Pictures and posters
- Objects related to the themes and topics, puppets, masks etc.
- Pictures to sequence
- Improvised costumes for role-play and acting out the stories
- Compact discs or audio tapes with stories (read or told), poems, rhymes and songs, CD player or tape recorder, television and video tapes/DVDs
- Storybooks and oral stories
- Poems, songs and rhymes
- Language games (oral)

READING AND PHONICS

- Pictures and posters
- Big Books – both fiction and non-fiction
- Recommended reading scheme (7 – 10 stories)
- Other enlarged texts (poems, songs, rhymes etc.)
- Picture books with captions (caption books)
- Short 'fun' books with 1 – 2 sentences on a page for the reading corner
- Flash card labels for classroom items, displays and for sight words
- Alphabet charts
- Pointers to use when reading enlarged texts, wall stories, displays
- Children's picture dictionaries (monolingual and bilingual)

WRITING AND HANDWRITING

- Writing materials such as pencils, coloured pencils, wax crayons, blank paper in various sizes (A3, A4, A5), ruler, eraser, blank jotters)
- Flipchart paper and thick Koki pens

Write the date in the top right hand corner.’ • Gives simple instructions, for example, ‘Hold my hand.’ • Understands and responds to simple questions such as ‘When ...?’ ‘Why ...?’ ‘Where’? (Where did you see a zebra? When did you see it? In the bush. Last year.) • Asks for clarification, for example, ‘I don’t understand. Please say that again.’ • Responds to and makes requests, for example, ‘Can I use the dictionary, please?’ • Participates in a short conversation on a familiar topic, for example, the weather, my family • Identifies an object from a simple oral description, for example, ‘I am a very big animal. I am grey. My skin is rough. I have sharp tusks and a long trunk. Who am I?’ • Talks about objects in a picture or photograph in response to teacher’s instructions, for example, ‘What can you see in the photo? Tell me what you can see in the photo.’ • Listens to a simple recount, for example, the teacher telling about a trip to the zoo • With help from the teacher, gives a simple recount, for example, learner tells the teacher about something he/she did • Understands and uses language structures in context, for example, past tense ‘I saw a giraffe.’ • Memorises and performs simple poems, action rhymes and songs, for example, The animals went in two by two • Plays language games, for example, Guess who I am

Focussed listening and speaking activities (30 minutes per week)Listens to stories told and read (Shared Reading)

Twice a week, the teacher tells or reads a story (or a recount of events). Stories that are told can be dramatised using gestures and props to support meaning. Stories that are read should be from a Big Book or illustrated poster where all the children can see the pictures.

- Listens to short stories, personal recounts or non-fiction texts (for example, factual recounts, instructions, information reports) told or read from a Big Book or illustrated poster for enjoyment
- Listens to stories, for example How the Giraffe got its Long Neck, and personal recounts and answers comprehension questions such as 'How did the giraffe get its long neck?'
- Predicts what will happen next in a story or personal recount (What do you think will happen to the Giraffe now?)
- Expresses feelings about the story (Did you like the story? Why/Why not?)
- Retells the story
- Listens to a non-fiction text such as a factual recount or information report on elephants and answers comprehension questions, for example, What does an elephant eat? What does it use its trunk for?
- With the teacher's help, gives a simple summary of the non-fiction text

Development of concepts, vocabulary and language structures

Through taking part in the above activities:

- continues to build oral vocabulary, including conceptual vocabulary, for example, animals – physical appearance, habitat, etc.
- begins to develop understanding and ability to use simple language structures in the context of meaningful spoken language, for example, countable and uncountable nouns such as 'elephants'/'water'; articles 'a' and 'the'; the simple present tense 'My skin is rough'; past tense 'I saw a giraffe'.)

ASSESSMENTSuggestions for Informal Assessment Activities:*Listening and Speaking: (oral and/or practical)*Weeks 1–5

- Understands and responds to simple questions such as 'When?' 'Why?'
- Identifies an object from a simple oral description, for example, 'I am a very big animal. I have a very long neck. I can eat the leaves at the tops of trees. Who am I?'

Weeks 6–10

- Retells a story orally
- Participates in a conversation on a familiar topic

Suggested Formal Assessment Activity 1:Listening and Speaking (oral and/ or practical)

- Listens to a non-fiction text such as a factual recount or information report and answers comprehension questions orally
- Gives a simple oral summary of 3 or 4 sentences of a non-fiction text
- Demonstrates understanding of oral vocabulary by pointing to objects in the classroom or in a picture in response to questions/instructions from the teacher, for example, 'What's that?' 'Point to the elephant's tusks'.

READING AND PHONICS

SUGGESTED CONTACT TIME

Minimum time: 1 hour per week

Maximum time: 1 hour 30 minutes per week

CONTENT/CONCEPTS/SKILLS

Phonics (15 minutes per week)

The teacher introduces common vowel digraphs, consonant blends and the silent 'e', using words that learners already know or high frequency words. When introducing a new word, the teacher makes sure learners understand the meaning and can use it in a sentence. She provides aural activities that require learners to recognise words that rhyme. These activities should be short (5–10 minutes) and spaced out over the week. They can also be integrated with Listening and Speaking, and Reading activities.

Weeks 1 – 5

- Recognises at least three new vowel digraphs (e.g. 'ea' as in eat, 'oa' as in boat, short 'oo' as in book etc.)
- Recognises silent 'e' in words (e.g. cake, time, hope, note)
- Builds and sounds out words using sounds learnt

Weeks 6 – 10

- Uses consonant blends to build up and break down words (e.g. ri-ng, i-nk, bla-ck, ch-op, cl-ap)
- Recognises known rhyming words (e.g. fly, sky, dry, cry, try)
- Distinguishes between long and short vowel sounds orally as in 'boot' and 'book', 'fool' and 'full', 'kite' and 'kit'
- Builds and sounds out words using sounds learnt

Shared Reading (Time has been allocated under Listening and Speaking)

Shared reading is both a reading and a listening activity; it also involves speaking because learners talk about the text with their teacher. In Grade 3, Shared Reading will continue, but as part of Listening and Speaking

- Reads a short written text (a Big Book or other enlarged text) with the teacher, using the title for prediction
- Answers literal questions about a story, for example, 'Who grew the enormous turnip?'
- Describes how a story made him/her feel, code switching if necessary

Group Guided Reading (Minimum 45 minutes, maximum 1 hour 15 minutes per week)

Where teachers are using maximum time for the First Additional Language, they should divide their class into 5 same-ability reading groups. They should use graded reading schemes and make sure each group is working with texts at the instructional level (word recognition between 90%–95% accuracy). The teacher should work with one group each day for 15 minutes. While she is working with this group, the other learners will do paired reading or independent reading or do activities related to the reading text.

Where teachers are using minimum time for the First Additional Language, they should do whole class guided reading three times a week.

- Reads aloud from own book in a guided reading group with the teacher. This means the whole group reads the same story or non-fiction text with the teacher
- Uses the reading strategies taught in the Home Language to make sense and monitor self when reading (phonics, context clues, structural analysis, sight words)
- Reads with increasing fluency and expression
- Shows an understanding of punctuation when reading aloud
- Continues to build a sight vocabulary from the guided, shared and independent reading

Independent reading (in learners' free time at school and at home)

Learners should be encouraged do independent reading in their First Additional Language when they have spare time in class, for example, if the teacher is working with the Guided Reading group, or when they have finished an activity ahead of time. It is important that every opportunity in class is used to develop their reading. Learners should also be encouraged to read at home for homework.

- Reads own and others' writing
- Reads independently books read in Guided Reading sessions and simple caption books and picture story books in the First Additional Language from the classroom reading corner
- Reads familiar poems and rhymes
- Uses children's picture dictionaries (monolingual and bilingual) to find out the meaning of unknown words

ASSESSMENTSuggestions for Informal Assessment Activities:*Phonics: (oral and/or practical and/or written)

- Distinguishes between long and short vowel sounds orally as in 'boot' and 'book', 'fool' and 'full', 'kite' and 'kit'

Suggested Formal Assessment Activity 2:Phonics: (oral and/or practical and/or written)

- Recognises at least three new vowel digraphs (e.g. 'ea' as in eat, 'oa' as in boat, short 'oo' as in book etc.)
- Recognises silent 'e' in words (e.g. cake, time, hope, note)

Suggested Formal Assessment Activity 3:Phonics: (oral and/or practical and/or written)

- Uses consonant blends to build up and break down words (e.g. ri-ng, i-nk, bla-ck, ch-op, cl-ap)
- Builds and sounds out words using sounds learnt

Suggestions for Informal Assessment Activities:Reading: (oral and/or practical)Shared reading*

- Answers short oral questions about the text
- Retells part of the story with the help of the teacher

Group Guided Reading

- Demonstrates comprehension and fluency when reading at own level with the teacher

Suggested Formal Assessment ActivityReading (oral and/ or practical)Shared Reading*

- Answers literal questions about a story or non-fiction text, for example, 'What is the first thing that happens to the bean seed when it grows?'

Group Guided Reading

- Demonstrates comprehension and fluency when reading at own level with the teacher

Paired/Independent reading

- Demonstrates comprehension and fluency when reading independently

LISTENING AND SPEAKING (ORAL)	SUGGESTED CONTACT TIME
	1 hour per week
CONTENT/CONCEPTS/SKILLS
Weeks 1–5
Teachers select two themes that will allow them to introduce and recycle vocabulary, and cover the activities listed below. Note that the suggested themes/topics are simply suggestions. Teachers should choose their own appropriate themes depending on their context and the resources available. They should make sure that they have the necessary Big Books/ posters, rhymes, songs, games and real objects for the theme they have chosen. They should try to cover as many activities as possible in the time available. Teachers should assess the learners using the Informal Assessment Activities recommended for Weeks 1–5.
Weeks 6–10
Teachers select two new themes that will allow them to build on what they did in the first five weeks. The themes should allow them to introduce new vocabulary and consolidate vocabulary already taught. The themes should also allow the teacher to constantly recycle simple, basic language structures as she communicates with the learners in the First Additional Language. Teachers should try to cover as many activities as possible in the time available. They should assess learners using the Informal Assessment Activities recommended for Weeks 6–10. They should carry out the Formal Assessment Activities.
Daily activities (30 minutes per week)
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Continues to develop an oral (listening and speaking) vocabulary using themes or topics such as ‘Making Things’ • Follows instructions, for example, ‘You will need some paper, koki pens, a pair of scissors and some string to tie the mask on. First draw the shape of your face. Next etc.’ • Gives simple instructions, for example, ‘Colour it yellow.’ • Understands and responds to simple questions such as ‘When ...?’ ‘Why ...?’ ‘How ...?’ (e.g. ‘How do you make a scary mask?’) • Asks for clarification, for example, ‘I don’t understand. Can you help me, please?’ • Responds to and makes requests, for example, ‘Can I use the dictionary, please?’ • Participates in a short conversation on a familiar topic, for example, what is going on in the community • Identifies an object from a simple oral description, for example, puts pictures in the right order after listening to instructions on how to make a mask • Talks about objects in a picture or photograph in response to teacher’s instructions, for example, ‘What can you see in the photo? Tell me what you can see in the photo.’ • Listens to a simple recount, for example, the teacher tells how she made the scary mask: ‘First I drew the shape of my face. Then I drew eyes, nose and a mouth etc.’ • Gives a simple oral recount, for example, tells about making a mask • Understands and uses language structures in context, for example, demonstrative pronouns: ‘Please give me that.’ • Memorises and performs simple poems, action rhymes and songs, for example, ‘There’s a ghost in our house!’ • Plays language games, for example, I spy with my little eye

Focussed listening and speaking (30 minutes per week)Listens to stories told and read (Shared Reading)

Twice a week, the teacher tells or reads a story (or a recount of events). Stories that are told can be dramatised using gestures and props to support meaning. Stories that are read should be from a Big Book or illustrated poster where all the children can see the pictures.

- Listens to short stories, personal recounts or non-fiction texts (e.g. factual recounts, instructions, information reports) told or read from a Big Book or illustrated poster for enjoyment
- Listens to stories (e.g. The Friendly Ghost) and personal recounts and answers comprehension questions, for example, 'Could people see the friendly ghost?'
- Predicts what will happen next in a story or personal recount (What do you think will happen next?)
- Expresses feelings about the story (Did you like the story? Why/Why not?)
- Retells the story
- Listens to a non-fiction text such as a procedural text, for example, how to make a mask and answers comprehension questions (What do you need to make a mask?)
- With the teacher's help, gives a simple summary of the non-fiction text

Development of concepts and vocabulary

Through taking part in the above activities:

- continues to build oral vocabulary, including conceptual vocabulary, for example, describing processes; making things
- begins to develop understanding and ability to use simple language structures in the context of meaningful spoken language, for example, past tense; countable and uncountable nouns: 'masks'/ 'paper'; articles: 'a' and 'the'; prepositions: in/on; demonstrative pronouns: 'Please give me that'

ASSESSMENTSuggestions for Informal Assessment Activities:*Listening and Speaking: (oral and/or practical)*Weeks 1–5

- Follows and gives instructions

Weeks 6–10

- Listens to a short oral recount
- Gives a short oral recount

Suggested Formal Assessment Activity 4:Listening and Speaking (oral and/ or practical)

- Listens to a story and answers comprehension questions orally
- Retells the story
- Demonstrates understanding of oral vocabulary by pointing to objects in the classroom or in a picture in response to questions/instructions from the teacher, for example, 'What's that?' 'Point to the ghost.'

Suggested Formal Assessment Activity 5:Listening and Speaking (oral and/or practical)

- Gives an oral recount of a recent experience

READING AND PHONICS

SUGGESTED CONTACT TIME

Minimum time: 1 hour per week

Maximum time: 1 hour 30 minutes per week

CONTENT/CONCEPTS/SKILLS

Phonics (15 minutes per week)

The teacher introduces new vowel digraphs and consonant blends, using words that learners already know or high frequency words. When introducing a new word, she makes sure learners understand the meaning and can use it in a sentence. She provides aural activities that require learners to recognise differences between sound/spelling relationships in home and additional language. These activities should be short (5–10 minutes) and spaced out over the week. They can also be integrated with Listening and Speaking, and Reading activities.

Weeks 1 – 5

- Distinguishes between different vowel sounds aurally (e.g. 'bird' and 'bed'; 'ship' and 'sheep')
- Recognises some differences between sound/spelling relationships in home and additional language (e.g. 'thatha' and 'thin')
- Recognises at least five new vowel digraphs (e.g. 'ai' as in pain, 'ay' as in pay, 'oi' as in coin, 'oy' as in toy, 'ou' as in round)
- Builds and sounds out words using sounds learnt

Weeks 6 – 10

- Distinguishes between different vowel sounds aurally (e.g. 'bad' and 'bed'; 'ship' and 'chip')
- Recognises some differences between sound/spelling relationships in home and additional language (e.g. 'cat' and 'icici')
- Recognises three-letter consonant blends at the beginning and end of words (e.g. str-, scr-, -tch, -nch)
- Recognises consonant digraphs in a word (e.g. 'ph', 'll', 'ss', 'ff')
- Builds and sounds out words using sounds learnt

Suggestions for Informal Assessment Activities:

Writing: (written)

- Writes a simple story with the support of the teacher
- Uses the writing process (drafting, writing, editing and publishing)

Suggested Formal Assessment Activity 6

Writing: (written)

- Writes a paragraph of 4–6 sentences on a familiar topic

Suggestions for Informal Assessment Activities:

Language Use: (written)

- Completes sentences using comparative adjectives

Suggested Formal Assessment Activity 6

Language Use: (written)

- Writes meaningful sentences using comparative adjectives

RECOMMENDED TEXTS/RESOURCES FOR THE YEAR

LISTENING AND SPEAKING

- Pictures and posters
- Real objects related to the themes and topics, puppets, masks etc.
- Pictures to sequence
- Improvised costumes for role-play and acting out the stories
- Compact discs or audio tapes with stories (read or told), poems, rhymes and songs, CD player or tape recorder, television and video tapes/DVDs
- Storybooks and oral stories
- Poems, songs and rhymes
- Language games (oral)

READING AND PHONICS

- Pictures and posters
- Big Books – fiction and non-fiction
- Recommended reading scheme (minimum 10 stories/books per term)
- Other enlarged texts , e.g. poems, songs, rhymes (home-made or commercially produced)
- Short ‘fun’ books with 1 – 2 sentences on a page for the reading corner
- Flash card labels for classroom items, displays and for sight words
- Alphabet charts
- Pointers to use when reading enlarged texts, wall stories, displays
- Children’s picture dictionaries (monolingual and bilingual)

WRITING AND HANDWRITING

- Writing materials such as pencils, coloured pencils, wax crayons, blank paper in various sizes (A3, A4, A5), ruler, eraser, blank jotters)
- Flipchart paper and thick Koki pens
- Children’s picture dictionaries (monolingual and bilingual)

HIGH FREQUENCY WORDS

Below is a list of the 100 most common words found in English children's story books. Some of the words reflect the kind of topics found in children's books (e.g. 'magic', 'giant'). The research which produced this list was done in Britain so words such as 'mum' appear, whereas in South Africa some people would say 'mom'. Because stories are told in the past tense, verbs often appear in the past tense.

The list is included to give teachers some idea of core vocabulary that learners should acquire in their additional language. They will acquire these words through listening to and reading English, and they will make them part of their active vocabulary by speaking and writing them. The words should not be taught out of context.

The words that children learn in their First Additional Language classes will not be exactly the same as those in the list below. The words they learn will depend on the themes the teacher uses and the books she reads with the children. Because an additional language is learned through listening as well as reading, we would expect to see more use of the present tense.

These lists are included only as a guide. Teachers themselves need to keep a record of the words that their learners hear and read. Once learners are able to read in their additional language, the teacher can start an English Word Wall in the classroom, and she can encourage learners to use simple children's dictionaries. Once learners can write, the teacher can encourage them to write new words they encounter in a personal dictionary (or vocabulary book). She can give learners regular vocabulary and spelling quizzes.

SECTION 4

TEXT TYPES COVERED IN FOUNDATION PHASE

In the Foundation Phase, learners will listen to the following text types:

- personal and factual recounts
- procedures (instructions)
- information reports
- narratives (stories)

In Grade 3, they will also be expected to give simple oral recounts and instructions.

As they start to read and write in their additional language, learners will read simple narratives, recounts, procedures and information reports. In Grade 3, they will also write a simple recount, procedure and narrative with the support of the teacher. In a First Additional Language, it is not advisable to introduce the past tense at the beginning of Grade 1, so stories can be told in the present tense at that stage

Below are examples of the text types used in the Foundation Phase.

PERSONAL RECOUNT

Example	Structure and features
Our school readathon Last week we had a Readathon at our school. It was in the school hall. First the Grade Rs sang songs in Setswana and English. Everyone clapped. Then some Grade 1 learners read a story in Setswana. Everyone clapped again. Next some Grade 2 learners acted a play in Setswana. It was funny. Everyone laughed. Last some Grade 3 learners read stories in Setswana and English. Everyone clapped. Then the principal gave prizes. Everyone clapped again. Last of all we had juice and biscuits. That was the best!	1. Heading 2. Orientation: tells us <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - what happened - when it happened - who was involved 3. Series of events in the order that they happened Time connectives first, then, next, last Past tense had, was, sang, clapped 4. Personal comment concludes the text

FACTUAL RECOUNT

Example	Structure and features
Growing a bean plant Our class planted beans on 3 September. We watched them grow. First we planted 5 beans. We planted each bean in a glass so we could watch it grow. We covered each bean in soil and watered it. Our group looked after one bean. After a week, we saw a little root. After 2 weeks, the root was bigger. We also saw a little shoot. After 3 weeks, the shoot grew above the soil. It had green leaves. On 26 September we put the bean plant in a pot. After 8 weeks, the plant was 20 cm tall. It had 10 leaves. On 5 November, we planted our bean in the school garden. It got lots of flowers. The flowers died and we saw little bean pods. The bean pods got bigger and bigger. There were beans inside. We could plant these beans and grow a new plant.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Heading 2. Orientation answers the questions: Who? What? When? 3. Series of events In the order that they happened Time connectives First, after Exact details of time On 5 November Technical terms root, shoot, pod 4. Result concludes the text

PROCEDURE (INSTRUCTIONS)

Example	Structure and features
How to make a peanut butter sandwich You will need: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - 2 slices of bread - some peanut butter - some margarine or butter - a knife - a plate Method <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Spread some margarine or butter on each slice of bread. 2. Spread some peanut butter on one slice. 3. Put the two slices of bread together. 4. Press them together gently. 5. Cut the sandwich in half. 6. Eat your sandwich! 	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Heading Describes the goal of the instructions 2. Materials Describes the items needed. Bullets can be used. 3. Method Each instruction starts on a new line and is numbered. Commands Spread, put, press, cut, eat (Most sentences start with a verb) Exact instructions Press them together gently

INFORMATION REPORT

Example	Structure and features
Snakes Snakes are reptiles. All reptiles have scales on their skin. Reptiles cannot control their body temperature. Their bodies are the same temperature as the place around them. They are called cold-blooded, but after a reptile has been in the sun for a while, its body becomes warm. All reptiles lay eggs. Kinds of snakes Two kinds of snakes are puff adders and pythons. Puff adders are yellow or brown with a black, v-shaped pattern. They can be a metre long. Pythons are bigger than puff adders. They are creamy brown with a brown pattern. They can be 5 metres long. Puff adders eat mainly rats and mice. They poison these animals with their venom. Pythons eat bigger animals such as dassies, rabbits and small buck. They strangle these animals.	1. Heading 2. NARRATIVE (STORY)

Example	Structure and features
How the elephant got its trunk Long, long ago elephants didn't have trunks. One day, a baby elephant wanted to go for a swim in the Limpopo River. But his mother said, 'You are not to go to the river. There are crocodiles – they will eat you!' However, the elephant calf didn't listen. He went down to the river and stood on the bank. 'I will just have a drink,' he said to himself. He put his mouth in the water, and WHOOSH a crocodile grabbed his nose. 'OW!' cried the calf, and he pulled and pulled. The more he pulled, the longer his nose got until he had a TRUNK! The crocodile eventually let go and the calf ran home to his mother. She was very surprised to see her calf's trunk. However, she soon realised he could do all sorts of things with it. It was very useful. And ever since then elephants have had trunks.	1. Title 2. GLOSSARY action rhymes – rhymes that are accompanied by actions (e.g. I touch my head, I touch my toes, I touch my knees, I touch my nose) additive bilingualism – when a person learns a language (or languages) in addition to his or her home language. The person builds on what he or she already knows in the home language (e.g. how to read and write). The additional language builds on the home language; it does not replace it.

automaticity – the ability to recognise words instantly without having to sound them out or think about them baseline assessment – initial assessment used to find out what learners already know blend – to put together two or three phonemes (individual sounds) to say a word or part of a word (e.g. ‘s’ + ‘p’ + ‘r’ = ‘spr’ in ‘spread’) caption – words printed or written below a picture explaining what it shows

contraction – a shorter form of a word showing how we say the word (e.g. ‘don’t’ is a contraction of ‘do not’) decoding – the reader’s ability to apply his or her knowledge of letter-sound relationships to correctly pronounce written words digraph – two letters used to refer to a single sound. In English there are consonant digraphs (e.g. ‘th’, ‘sh’) and vowel digraphs (e.g. ‘ee’, ‘ea’) emergent literacy – refers to a child’s growing knowledge of the printed word. Children see print in the environment and begin to understand its purpose. They may have stories told or read to them; they learn what books are and how stories work. So even before they come to school they know a lot about literacy. They may try to write their names using their own ideas about letters and spelling (i.e. emergent spelling), and they may pretend to read a book (i.e. reading-like behaviour). This is the beginning of children’s literacy.

environmental print – print that is all around us, e.g. street signs, traffic signs, shop signs, labels on packaging fluency – the ability to read a text quickly and accurately with expression that reflects understanding formulaic language – language which is learned in chunks or wholes (e.g. greetings). When we begin to learn a language, much of what we learn is formulaic. Gradually, we begin to make sense of the patterns and rules of the language, and we become able to express our own ideas in very simple ways.

graded readers – books which are written at different levels. The grammar, vocabulary and sentence length starts out very simple and gets progressively more difficult. The level of the book needs to be matched to the child’s reading level.

guided reading – a classroom activity in which learners are taught in groups according to their reading ability. The teacher develops learners’ comprehension and fluency and teaches reading strategies.

high frequency words – common words that appear often in print, e.g. ‘the’, ‘a’, ‘and’, ‘to’, ‘said’, ‘in’, ‘he’.

incidental learning – learning that happens without deliberate teaching independent level text – relatively easy text for the reader, with no more than approximately 1 in 20 words difficult for the reader (95% success) independent reading – reading done in or outside the classroom, where the child has some choice of text and the pace of reading is not directly controlled by the teacher to infer – to use the information in the text to work out something that is not directly stated in the text (i.e. to read between the lines)

inference – something that the reader thinks is true based on what he or she has worked out from the information in the text inferential – an ‘inferential question’ is one which asks learners to infer meaning from the text (e.g. ‘How do you think the little boy felt?’) information report – the purpose of an information report is to describe the way things are (e.g. Healthy Foods). An information report is written in the simple present tense.

instructional level text – challenging but manageable text for the reader, with no more than approximately 1 in 10 words difficult for the reader (90% success) literal – the literal meaning of a text is exactly what is stated in the text. A ‘literal question’ is one which asks learners to get information directly stated in the text (e.g. What colour was the little boy’s jersey?)

monitor – to observe carefully, evaluate and give feedback narrative – the purpose of narrative is to entertain. A narrative is told in the past tense. First the setting is described and the characters are introduced. Then there are events leading to a complication followed by a resolution. Time connectives are used, e.g. ‘Early that morning’, ‘later on’, ‘once’.

onset – the part of the syllable before the first vowel (e.g. c-at) paired reading – paired learners take turns reading aloud to each other phonemic awareness – the ability to hear, identify and manipulate the individual sounds of a language (e.g. in English to identify the same sound in ‘bad’, ‘sad’, ‘glad’ and ‘mad’, and to distinguish between the sounds in ‘bed’, ‘bad’, ‘bud’ and ‘bird’).

phonics – phonics instruction teaches children the relationship between the letters (graphemes) of written language and the individual sounds (phonemes) of spoken language. It teaches children to use these relationships to read and write words.

phonological awareness – the ability to understand how the sound system works, e.g. to identify sounds, syllables, rhymes, onsets and rimes.

procedural text (instructions) – the purpose of a procedural text (or procedure) is to tell people how to do something. Often the equipment needed is listed and then the instructions are given in sequence using imperatives and sequencing words, for example, First boil the water. Then add salt, etc.

publish – one of the stages in the writing process (draft, write, edit, publish). When learners publish their writing, they present it to an audience, e.g. read it aloud or display it on the class wall or publish it in a class 'book'.

to recount – to tell about past events in a sequence (e.g. to say or write about what one did last weekend)

a recount – The purpose of a recount is to tell a sequence of events (e.g. a child telling what happened at the weekend in the class 'news time'). A recount uses the past tense and words like 'first', 'then' and 'next'.

refrain – the chorus of a song, rhyme or poem rhyme – words or lines of poetry that end with the same sound including a vowel (e.g. sad, mad, glad, bad) rime – the part of the syllable from the first vowel onwards (e.g. c-at). It has the potential to rhyme.

shared reading – an activity in which children share the reading of an enlarged text with the teacher. This is a lesson with the whole class. The text used is aimed at the top group in the class. Some children will be at a listening level, others will be beginning to engage in the reading and more will be engaging fully. The same text is used over several days. Each day a new focus is selected by the teacher. The text is used to introduce text features, phonics, grammar and reading skills in context.

sight words – words that readers recognise automatically (on sight). They do not need to decode them phonically or think about them. In the early stages of reading, sight words are usually high frequency words such as 'he', 'she', 'they', 'a', 'the', 'are', 'were', 'my', etc.

story board – a series (or sequence) of pictures illustrating a story or procedure (e.g. how to make a mask) strategy – strategies are ways of learning. There a number of strategies learners can use if they cannot read a word. For example, they can look for clues in the pictures, they can sound out the word or they can break it down into syllables.

structural analysis – this involves analysing words (e.g. prefixes and suffixes) to recognise and understand a word that is unfamiliar in print text types – texts with different purposes, structures and features. Text types taught in the Foundation Phase are recounts, instructions (procedural text), stories (narrative) and information reports.

total physical response – a method of language teaching in which the teacher gives instructions, the learner responds physically, and the teacher provides feedback.

utterance – a spoken word, phrase or sentence that has meaning in itself (e.g. Hello/Well done/I like spinach.)

word bank – a store or file of new words word attack skills – these are strategies that learners use when they cannot read an unfamiliar word
